Forecast for Tuesday 09 Mar 2021

Weather: Cloudy with a few breaks overnight, perhaps some drizzly outbreaks in the west. Staying mainly cloudy but dry for the morning period, perhaps brightening up for a period in the early afternoon with a few brighter spells possible for eastern hills. Rain will spread into the far west of the Brecon Beacons in the late evening accompanied by southwesterly gales.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 60% patches of lower cloud likely in the west of the Brecon Beacons.

Visibility: Visibility is likely to be moderate or good for much of the day but patches of low cloud around 500m will cover the hill tops at times in the west. In the east the cloud base will be above the tops and there are more likely to be a few breaks and possibly some brighter spells in the afternoon.
